Access Facebook From School with HTTPS

Try using "https://www.facebook.com" instead of "http://www.facebook.com" to access Facebook from school. This accesses an encrypted version of Facebook that is usually not blocked by school computers. Also try installing the HTTPS Everywhere add-on for Firefox browsers, or the Facebook Secure Connection if you're using Google Chrome. Restart your browser and then visit "https://www.facebook.com" to access ... Continue reading

Access Facebook from School with Google Translate

If you have trouble using proxy servers to access Facebook from school, another trick you can use is to translate Facebook into another language using Google Translate. Go to the Google Translate website and type “facebook.com” into the empty text field. Then choose a language other than “English” from the drop-down menu box. Click the ... Continue reading

Access Facebook From School

You can access Facebook from school using a free web proxy. A web proxy acts as a middleman between you and Facebook. This allows you to visit Facebook without your school knowing about it. Here is a list of free web proxy sites. Click on one of the links below to visit a free web ... Continue reading
